Membership Participation

The Anthroposophical Society is an association of individuals dedicated to the cultivation of a genuine science of the spirit, an association based not on principles, but on human relationships and striving.

The basis of membership in the Anthroposophical Society is participation, which includes financial participation through membership dues. These dues are vital to the work of anthroposophy in the United States and at the Goetheanum. They demonstrate the firm will and deep sense of the membership to bring anthroposophy more fully into the world.

We ask that you consider your situation and give generously when selecting your dues amount, so that we may continue the good work of stewarding anthroposophy in service to our members, and to the movement, for the renewal of modern culture.

Your membership is essential.
